4. Now let's read and understand the lesson on Children's Day Celebration'.

Children are the best gifts of God to parents.

Children's day in India is celebrated on November 14th every year. November 14th is the birthday of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. As a tribute to Jawaharlal Nehru and his love for children, his birthday is celebrated all over India as children's day.

Children affectionately called Jawaharlal Nehru 'Chacha Nehru' or 'Chachaji' because he was fond of both children and roses. He said that children are liked the buds in a garden.

They should be carefully nurtured. Children are the future of the nation and the citizens of tomorrow. He felt that children are the, real strength of a country. On children's day schools have cultural programmes, games and these are managed by students themselves. Teachers perform various cultural activities for their beloved students.

Deepu was a poor stone-cutter. It was very hot and Deepu did not feel like working, so he put his pick-axe down and said, "I want to be rich." Suddenly an angel came down from heaven and blessed him, "you shall be rich my son". Deepu said, "Thank you angel." And Deepu became rich. He ate and drink all day.

One day he saw a king. Suddenly he felt that “money isn't enough. I want to be a king.” The angel came again and made him a king. Now everybody in the village bowed to him, Deepu was happy.

One day he was going around his country. The hot sun burnt him. Suddenly Deepu shouted, “I want to be the sun”. The angel came again and turned Deepu into the sun. Deepu burnt everything. He was happy. But after some days, he saw a cloud below him. It was a strong cloud. Now the sun could not reach the earth anymore. And of course Deepu wanted to be a cloud. The angel came again and turned Deepu into a cloud. The cloud rained everyday. The rain water fell on a rock and the rock did not move. Deepu as a cloud saw this and shouted, “I want to be a rock.” The angel came down and turned Deepu into a rock. The rock did not move when it rained.

One day, a man with the pick-axe came and saw the rock. “This is a big rock. I'll cut this and get stones from it.” Suddenly Deepu shouted: “I don't want to be a rock anymore”. The angel came down for the last time and said : “You shall be a stone cutter again” .
